

Almirall announces a restructuring plan in Spain

Barcelona, 18th October 2016

Almirall SA has announced today a restructuring plan in Spain, which will affect a maximum of 121 people, with the aim of supporting the new growth drivers of the company.

The objective of this plan is to streamline operations and particularly to reallocate resources in order to provide the required support to the new growth drivers of the company as a result of its own R&D as well as from successful business development projects over the last 18 months. These include three clinical projects in phase 3 and one new chemical entity in phase 1, the preparation towards the launch in Europe of two new products to treat psoriasis, one of them being a biologic product, and to continue providing support to the new launches in the USA as well as the growth in aesthetics.

In parallel the company is engaged in an exercise to implement zero base budgeting across all its operations as a way to further free up resources to support those same objectives.

This necessary adjustment in the workforce will be carried out with the utmost respect to our employees, and therefore Almirall will propose an appropriate social plan to minimize its effects.
